

Sheila Fejeran

Best Real Estate Agent

THE FEJERAN GROUP, EXP REALTY

For Best REALTOR® Sheila Fejeran, her career of serving and helping others is a blessing. "I have to give God the glory for my business," she says. "I am very grateful for what He has done and the position He has placed me in." Helping sellers get the right price for their largest investment is a passion. "I love everything about it," she says. "My clients become my friends. I love being a part of changing people's lives."

Fejeran earned a degree with a double major in speech communications and radio, television, and film. She began her career in radio, which gave her a strong marketing and advertising background. She later worked in sales and designed homes for a major homebuilder. After combining her training and experience in marketing, construction, and sales, it's no surprise she has achieved such success in residential real estate. Now working in the real estate industry for more than 14 years, Fejeran's clients consistently benefit from her marketing and construction savvy. When working with sellers, she is as much a marketing expert for them as she is their trusted agent. "I care about the people, not just about the transaction." "Autographed with Excellence" is Fejeran's motto. It's no surprise why more than half of her clients are referrals. "I look at what I do as helping them achieve their dreams and am lucky to play a part of their future."

She stays on the cutting-edge of technology and is known for her high-tech, high-touch approach. Fejeran credits her company, eXp Realty, since it is a cloud-based, technology driven company. Being a part of an agent-owned brokerage translates into a higher level of service and commitment from inside the company and to clients. Says Fejeran, "When you love what you do and are having fun, it is infectious and resonates with my clients."
